

VEDBAEK MESOLITHIC CEMETERY, DENMARK

Grave	Burials	Grave goods
1	young woman
2	50 year old man
3	40-50 year old woman (broken spine healed in life)
4	adult, probably man	flint blade, bone dagger, boar teeth
5	adult man	flint blade
6	40-60 year old man (broken spine healed in life)	antler axe, three flint blades
7	young person
8	18 year old woman	190 red deer and boar teeth, snail shells on part of a dress folded under her head, 50 teeth of red deer, elk and seal, and shells at base of the dress she was wearing
	new born baby (laid on swan's wing)	long flint blade across the top of the baby
9	adult man	boar tooth pendant
10	50 year old man	two flint blades, laid on two red deer antlers, 5 large stones laid over the legs
11	no body (dug up shortly after burial)	antler, bone awl, axe, red ochre
12	elderly man	two flint blades, bone tool
13	adult man	axe, flint blade
14	adult woman
	new born baby
15	new born baby
16	35-40 year old	ornament of 50+ teeth and pine marten jaw, small flint blade, two roe deer bones
	25-30 year old (killed by bone arrow)
	1 year old between them
17	young woman sitting upright
18	6 month old child
19	40-50 year old woman (or may be a man)	laid on red deer antlers

Note: bodies in the same grave were all buried and died at the same time.